Ute Citizens Eye Corporation For Oil Money

A meeting of the membership of the Affiliated Utes Citizens was held in Roosevelt Saturday, according to Albert Harris, executive secretary of the group, to study a proposal to set up three corporations and select five members to sign each of the articles of Incorporation They were also to reaffirm action taken in a previous meeting in regards to accepting and filing of articles of incorporation with the state of Utah

The proposal calls for a sheep corporation; a cattle corporation and a distributive corporation to distribute funds which come to the group from oil leases, oil lease bonuses, royalties, claims settled by the government and any other income of the group

The purpose of this action is to carry out provisions of Public Law 671 which provides for the termination and removal of federal restrictions over the Indian and his trust property

In attendance with the membership of the Affiliated Ute Citizens were the area director, Fred M Haverland of Phoenix, Ariz , superintendent Darrell Fleming, legal counsel John S Boyden and associate Bryant H Croft, and officials of the First Security Bank
